

Pie Chart:
Think of something to count or measure and represent it as a pie chart.

Sound Map:
Diagram the sounds you hear in different directions.

I made this mini zine with some of my favorite nature journaling prompts. You can use it as you look out the window, take it for a walk, or fill in using your imagination. I hope it gives you some ideas for different ways to observe your surroundings.

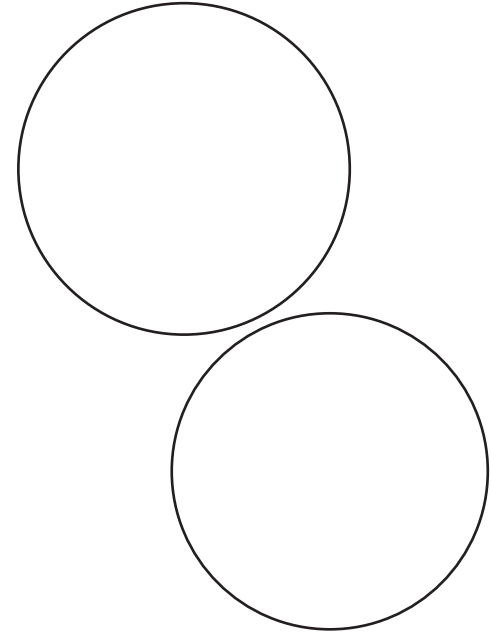

Have fun with it and make it your own!
